REBELATION

THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER FOR PARENTS OF TEURLINGS CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

O C T O B E R , 2 0 1 0

From Our Principal...

It is hard to believe we have already completed the 1st quarter of the school year. From the excitement of beginning school in August to the trepidation of the 1st quarter report cards, we have had an outstanding school year. We have been witness to the positive leadership of the senior class and the continual development of our Catholic identity as a school.

We have many opportunities to express our Catholic identity in October: First Friday Adoration on October 1, Blessing of the Pets on October 4, Rebel Revival on October 6, reconciliation October 6 and 20, Pro-Life Rosary on October 7, Liturgies on October 14 and 21, Sophomore Retreat on October 19, and Homecoming Liturgy on October 29. We invite parents to share these experiences with your children.

Teurlings Catholic will be on Fall Break on October 11-12 and I know the students are excited about not having classes those days. On Tuesday, October 12 we have scheduled Parent / Teacher Conference Day. Teachers will be on campus from 12:00 – 6:00 p.m. in their classrooms to meet with parents concerning student progress. This is an important opportunity to establish communication with the teachers.

Many of you will be confronted with serious decisions regarding moral and ethical behaviors as plans for Homecoming 2010 take shape. What peer pressures dictate and what is proper ethical behavior are not always the same. We have concerns about the usage and/or possession of alcohol by minors. All students will be breathalyzed to gain entrance into the Homecoming dance. We have concerns about adults purchasing and supplying alcohol to minors. We have concerns about provocative and degenerate styles of dancing. We expect the highest of standards of conduct for our students and will work hard to insure they know our levels of expectation. Dress should be modest and tasteful, bodies should be chemical free, and dancing should be wholesome and acceptable.

The Student Council Executive Committee has worked hard in planning a week's worth of events for Homecoming. Our students will participate in daily activities, our Homecoming liturgy will have the participation of alumni, the pep rally should be spirited, and the game will be exciting. I hope you will witness the enthusiasm and energy that a homecoming brings to a school community. Whether you recently graduated or are a seasoned veteran, you are a Rebel. Once a Rebel, always a Rebel!

DISCIPLINE

Bruce Baudier - Assistant Principal

Student I.D. Info……..

"I left it at home"; "It's in my Mom's car"; "I spent the night at Jenny's house and I must have left it there"; "It's in my other pants". SO MANY REASONS, SO LITTLE TIME!!

Students are required to wear their school I.D./lanyard which was issued at orientation. Student I.D.'s greatly assist teachers in quickly identifying TCHS students. Also, the lunch line is noticeably faster, as the lunch line cafeteria worker doesn't have to ask for the I.D. to scan since it is readily available on the lanyard.

The red lanyard on seniors allows the cafeteria duty teacher to recognize seniors, getting them inside ahead of the underclassmen. A scenario greatly appreciated by the seniors.

First hour teachers are asked each day to check for I.D.'s. When a student has no I.D. they are sent to the front office to purchase a 1 day 'peel and stick' I.D. for $1.00. No I.O.U.'s are allowed. The student must either have $1.00 or borrow it from someone.

Should an I.D. be completely lost, a replacement can be requested and made by Mrs. Tisha in the front office for $5.00.

The game plan for next year is to have a specific color lanyard for each grade level. Being able to identify grade level students helps where grade level seating is required, such as mass, assemblies, etc.

Please help your son and/or daughter remember to have their I.D. on a daily basis.

A special thanks to all the Catholic High New Iberia students who came to spend time at our Mass on Thursday, September 23!

ACADEMICS

Marty Heintz - Assistant Principal

There was a song titled "Times They Are A Changing" by Bob Dylan in January 1964 on Columbia Records that went like this:

Come mothers and fathers
Throughout the land
And don't criticize
What you can't understand
Your sons and your daughters
Are beyond your command
Your old road is Rapidly agin'.
Please get out of the new one
If you can't lend your hand
For the times they are a-changin'.

While that was intended as a typical protest song of the turbulent 1960s, the theme fits what I've heard referred to on national news shows as the "technology gap" we find today between kids and parents. If you are over 35, you can identify with this -- we handwrote all our papers in English class, learned to type on a typewriter, used slide rules and "simple" calculators in math class, watched TV shows on one of the three major networks with our parents in the living room, saw our movies at the theater, and had to use that landline phone (with our parents or brothers and sisters standing nearby) if we wanted to communicate with our friends.

The times are not "a-changin'" – they have already changed. I'm sure I could count on my fingers the students on this campus who do not have access to a cell phone, a TV in their bedroom with hundreds of cable or satellite channels, and an Internet-connected computer somewhere in the house – all of which occupy a great deal of their free time. The temptation exists not only to skip schoolwork altogether for something that seems "more fun" but to cut corners on the work that is done. Let me deal with both issues, as we approach the end of the first quarter and those first report cards.

Homework – yes, there is homework on a nearly daily basis with very few exceptions. While I do not expect any student to spend five-six hours a night on homework, ALL students should be doing some written work and definitely studying at home. I cannot give you a figure on the amount of time that should be devoted to homework and studying, because that will vary depending on the student and his/her ability, the grade level, and the courses being taken. Just suffice it to say that there is homework and all students should spend time studying and you, the parents, are probably the best judges of whether or not enough time is being devoted to schoolwork based on grades and your expectations for your own student.

Technology – yes, technology is great and I cannot live without it. But I have this to consider: Does your student utilize technology enough and are the proper resources available for him or her? Or does your student rely too much on the technology available for entertainment purposes rather than education?

Our English classes are beginning the research process (see the chart to the right for the appropriate grade level dates). We do have computers in the library here on campus for students to utilize before and after school and during lunch. There are also available computers at branches of the public library. Those are great options for occasional use and rare emergencies. However, nothing replaces access to a home computer or personal laptop and printer when it comes to writing papers and completing projects on a daily basis. We expect students to come to class prepared to turn in a copy of papers and projects or to have submitted the paper electronically through Turnitin.com. If you are looking for some low-cost options (great Christmas presents and affordable buys by students themselves with a little saving) the new generation of netbooks can do everything a big laptop can do except play a DVD (not necessary anyway) for under $300 and printers can be purchased at the discount chains for under $50. Students are allowed to bring their laptop or netbook on the campus for educational purposes if the teacher agrees and if the student has submitted the personal computer agreement.

Finally, you know how much time your student spends on the cell phone, hooked up to Facebook, playing games, or watching TV. Is the tech time infringing on sleep and study? As parents, step in. While your child may not appreciate it now, he or she will later. And, remind your student that it is easy to cut and paste someone else's work into their own document or even to copy an old paper and submit it as their own, but they will get caught and the consequences are not pleasant. Information on plagiarism and how to avoid it was presented to the parents who attended our evening session on September 14. Students are getting information and a review of the information as their class is assigned the research paper. Please stress to your student that following the directions is critical to avoiding any problems and contact either me or the English teacher if you have any questions.

COUNSELOR'S CORNER

Anna Proctor & Milton Rohm

√ On Wednesday, October 13th all 9th and 10th grade students will take the PLAN test. This is a practice ACT. Coach Milton Rohm will meet with all 9th and 10th grade students prior to the test. This is not only a great opportunity for students to practice ACT testing skills, but also helps to determine where student's strengths and weaknesses are. These scores will be used to determine if students can be placed into honors courses.

√ On Wednesday, October 13th all 11th grade students will take the Practice SAT test. The SAT test is a college entrance exam used especially for students wanting to attend college out of state. Taking the Practice SAT is a great opportunity for our 11th grade students to practice their test taking skills. Also, students who do exceptionally well on the Practice SAT are entered into a scholarship competition called the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test or NMSQT. Mrs. Proctor will meet with the 11th grade students prior to the test to distribute practice questions and information about the test.

√ Mrs. Proctor will also meet with the 11th grade students to distribute an information booklet for juniors to refer to during the school year. All juniors are expected to take the ACT test at least once or twice during the school year. Students can register for the ACT at www.actstudent.org. Juniors will also be given a copy of their high school transcript and TOPS transcript. These transcripts can help students determine what they need to make this year to improve their grade point average and where they stand for TOPS at this point in time. Students will also be given information on the Louisiana Core 4 Graduation/College Admission Requirements. Parents are encouraged to review this information and call the guidance office if you have any questions. Mrs. Proctor can be reached at aproctor@tchs.net or 337 235-5711 ext. 108.

√ Seniors are encouraged to check the scholarship board for announcements that are posted in Room 20 on a daily basis.

Student Artist Jacob Broussard brings the Bible to life at Teurlings Catholic

What began as an independent assignment for an Art class evolved into a commitment for Jacob Broussard (TCH '10). During the summer of his junior year, Jacob made a promise to himself and later to his art teacher, Ms. Becky Ducharme, that he would paint a Biblical mural on the outside wall of the school library as a legacy to his alma mater.

The mural was originated by Jacob Toups (TCH '04), a senior at the time, then was continued by Sarah Goodness (TCH '07). But the mural sat idle for several years before Broussard picked up his brush. He studied a sequence of stories from the Bible and reproduced them within the seven-panel mural.

Jacob began work on the project in January 2009, and continued throughout the winter, spring, and summer months that followed. Jacob brought to life the sketched representations of the Biblical stories. Under the supervision of Ms. Ducharme, Jacob completed the mural in August, just before beginning his classes in Visual Arts at UL Lafayette.

Jacob's previous works include his recognition in March as winner of the George Rodrigue Foundation of the 2010 Art Contest in which he placed 5th among 300 fellow artists and received a $3,000 award. In addition to his college career, he currently works as an assistant coach with the TCH Speech and Debate team.

Description of the TCH Biblical mural by Jacob Broussard:

The concept of the mural is to depict God as an artist. The hand is to portray Him drawing out humanity. The painting begins with the Old Testament; Adam and Eve are reflecting on the apple from the Tree of Good and Evil. The scene leads to the story of Noah building his ark, proceeding to the story of Joseph and his colored coat. His twelve brothers can be seen throwing him into the well, with pyramids symbolizing his future in Egypt. This is followed by Jonah who swims fiercely against the currents right before he is to be consumed and sheltered within the belly of the whale. Next we see Joseph and Mary making their way to Bethlehem on the back of a donkey and searching for a place to stay before the birth of Jesus. The story continues with a distraught Mary watching her son being crucified while the shadow of the cross falls across her. Our hope and our salvation are displayed in the abandoned tomb with the huge stone rolled away. The mural ends with Jesus' face, representing His resurrection from the dead to save humanity.
